

PREVIEW

from The Navajo Origin Legend

Summary This part of the Navajo legend tells how the wind breathes life into corn to create the First Man and First Woman. This creation myth shows how important nature, corn, animal skins, feathers, and the wind are to the Navajo.

Note-taking Guide

Use this diagram to record events in the order in which they happen in this story.

